The larger historic market Town of Priego De Cordoba is less than an eight minute drive and Malaga and the airport just over an hour.

Stairs from the sitting room lead up to the first floor where there is a family bathroom, a double bedroom, a single bedroom then to the front a large light airy room currently being used as a lounge however would be a very large master bedroom. Also on this floor is access to the second floor which is currently two large rooms used as storage however could easily be changed into another bedroom with en suite or two further bedrooms.

The first floor also has access to a patio area with a utility area off it and a walk in storage room. Steps then lead up to the very private and sunny sun terrace with views across the rooftops and to the castle.

It is also important to note that this property has new windows and electrics and is completely solid and can be moved straight into. There is also an option to buy some of the furniture by private negotiation with the vendor.
