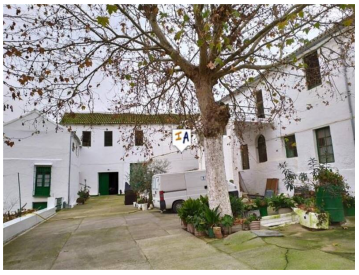
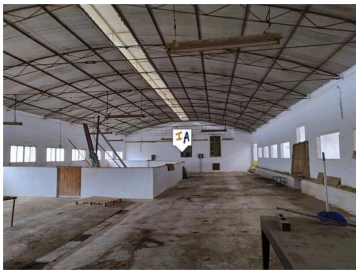
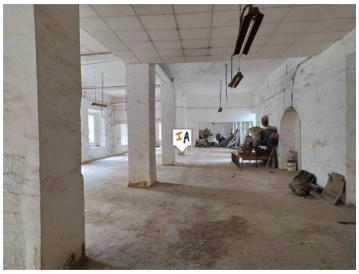
3 bedroom Country House for sale in Antequera, Málaga

455,000€







This amazing building with a total build size of 2,345m2 sits just a few minutes walk from the beautiful town of Antequera on the walkers and cyclists route, perfect to explore the stunning countryside which surrounds Antequera in the Malaga province of Andalucia, Spain. The property has great access and whilst standing at the front door all you can hear is the water cascading down the waterfall which is located to the left of the property. The property is mainly vacant. It used to be a thriving agricultural business. Now empty, you can appreciate the shear size of the build and take in some of it's truly beautiful features which include beamed ceiling's and arched set windows . The current owners have two small living accommodations on separate sides of the building. One they use for the winter months and the other in the summer as it is cooler. Although the living areas are small they both have rustic kitchens, full bathrooms and bedrooms. This unique property on a generous 2,293m2 plot would be a perfect project for someone wanting to open a business or create and incredible home. Really must be seen to be appreciated.
