

6 soveværelse Byhus til salg i Fuente Piedra, Málaga

110.000€

This large 353m² build 5 to 6 bedroom, property with a generous plot size of 708m² sits just off the main square of the beautiful town of Fuente de Piedra, in the province of Malaga, Andalucia, Spain, within easy walking distance to all the local amenities the town has to offer. The property has a private garage which is accessed from the front of the property and opens to the rear garden. There are two separate entrances to the property as the property is currently divided in to 2 separate apartments the ground floor consists of 2 bedrooms, sitting room, kitchen and bathroom all of which opens to the rear patio and garden. The first floor consists of 3 bedrooms, kitchen, bathroom and a good size lounge diner that opens on to a terrace with stairwell down to the rear garden. The rear garden has a large storage shed which needs to be removed due to deterioration over the years but beyond this building is a large garden with mature fruit trees and plenty of space to create an amazing outside area in the center of town. Fantastic opportunity to modernize and reform a large family home.
