This country property is what everyone is looking for, detached, full of character and charm, stunning countryside views on the edge of a town and still close enough to walk to all of the local amenities. The property itself sits within a plot of approximately 1900m² of land which includes some olive trees and various established fruit trees. Although quite small, the property has mains water & electric and a great access road. Once inside there is a good size lounge which leads to a ground floor bedroom a second sitting room and on to a rustic kitchen and full bathroom. On the first floor there are currently 2 bedrooms and a third room which is just used for storage. The property also has various rooms that at sometime the owner had ideas for but are left unfinished this would really make a great rural retreat with plenty of space to let your imagination run wild. Must be seen !
