What a lovely property this is and its on the edge of a very popular village that has several bars and shops.

It is semi detached but feels like its a detached property as its private and offers so much. All the floors, windows, doors and roof have been reformed and it has updated electrics too. The property is ready to move into and would be great for holidays and also living there full time.

On the ground floor is a charming sitting room with a log burner, fitted kitchen and bathroom. Then out the back is a really nice private patio area with room for a pool.

Upstairs there are 2 bedrooms.

It has all mains services connected and has lovely views too....so just about perfect if you want to be in the country but close to amenities.
