Traditional Molino, Flour Mill, that has been converted into this two storey property which is separated in two parts, the ground floor has been partially reformed with a good size lounge diner with a huge original open fireplace that will heat the whole property, 3 good size bedrooms and a full family bathroom. The first floor is still home to some of the original machinery that would run the original Molino - mill to make flour for the bread. The property has retained many of its original features including beamed ceilings, thick walls, and many areas upstairs that would be used for storing the flour. This property also has a large garage which would be a great workshop with plenty of space for a least 2-3 cars and a fireplace in the corner. The property has good access and is located in the village of La Atalaya which is only a 5 minute drive to the town of Villanueva de Algaidas in the Malaga province of Andalusia which has a great infrastructure.
