

2 soveværelse Lejlighed til salg i Santa Pola, Alicante

399.000€

The residence is where the Mediterranean Sea and the bay of Santa Pola come into perfect harmony. It is a residential building consisting of 1 commercial building, 1 mezzanine for parking with car lift and storage areas and 12 houses of 1, 2 and 3 bedrooms with an unbeatable location: opposite the port of Santa Pola. The building will have 7 floors and the houses will vary from 83m² to 172m². "Edificio Las Velas" takes its name from its location, as we wanted to pay tribute to this coastal fishing village and its harbor, full of candles in the sea; landscape that you will appreciate from your home. One of the features that makes this building unique is that it has the type A energy label, which requires good design and orientation, high-quality installations, good insulation of the facade and roof and the use of active and renewable energy.
