

6 soveværelse Byhus til salg i Luque, Córdoba

69.000€

This 6 bedroom 2 bathroom corner property is situated in the sought after town of Luque in the Cordoba province of Andalucia, Spain. You enter the townhouse into a bright reception area with seating, to the right, a small number of steps lead into a spacious lounge with a feature fireplace off which is a formal dining room and then into the kitchen space. Towards the rear of the dining room a door takes you to a bathroom and out onto a tiled sun terrace. Stairs to the right of the dining room take you to the first floor landing where it includes a bed and off which is another bathroom. Also off the landing you have direct access out onto a sun terrace with views over the edge of town to the countryside beyond. On this level you have a twin bedroom and a double bedroom to the left off the landing space. Back in the reception area, on the left, a couple of steps lead down into a twin bedroom. A second staircase to the front left off the reception area takes you first up to a bright double bedroom then continues on to a further double bedroom with an ensuite wash room. In need of up dating the property is price to sell, on the market for 69,000 euros.
