Orihuela Costa is a vibrant coastal area located within the municipality of Orihuela, in the province of Alicante, Spain. Stretching along more than 16 kilometers of Mediterranean shoreline, it features a series of beautiful beaches and coves with golden sand and crystal-clear waters, many of which have been awarded Blue Flag status for their quality. Sports enthusiasts benefit from four internationally renowned golf courses (including Villamartín, Las Colinas, Las Ramblas, and Campoamor), scenic cycling and hiking routes, and a wide range of water sports such as sailing, paddleboarding, and diving. The commercial and social heart of the area is the La Zenia Boulevard shopping center, which offers over 150 shops, restaurants, cinemas, and entertainment venues. Its combination of high quality of life, natural beauty, and cultural and leisure opportunities makes it one of the standout locations on Spain's Costa Blanca.
