

Jord til salg i Periana, Málaga

125.000€

Two adjoining rustic plots are offered for sale, together spanning more than 34,000 m². Situated in the peaceful area of Las Mayorales, Periana, this property is ideal for those seeking an agricultural investment with development potential

Both plots are connected to the municipal water supply. In addition, the property features a large water reservoir with a capacity of 1.5 million litres, ensuring ample irrigation for the more than 500 olive trees planted across the land. These trees are in full production and offer excellent profitability.

The plot also offers the possibility to build either an agricultural warehouse or a residential home, providing flexibility for future use. Email us to receive all details about these plots.
