37.000€

This charming 4 bedroom property is located in Bobadillas de Alcaudete in the Jaén province of Andalucía, Spain. It sits on a wide street with convenient on road parking right outside. As you enter the townhouse you are welcomed by a large entryway. To the left is a comfortable bedroom and straight ahead is the living area, which leads to a second bedroom and the staircase to the first floor, both on the left. Beyond the living space, you have a wheelchair accessible kitchen that flows into an utility room and then a ground floor bathroom. From the kitchen, a side door opens out to a beautiful, large patio. To the left of the patio stands a shed-like structure, ideal for converting into a shaded outdoor space for the warm Andalusian summers. At the rear of the patio, there is a separate building with a ground and first floor, currently used for storage but full of potential for conversion into a guest annex, a studio, or workshop. Returning inside, the first floor of the main house offers two large bedrooms and a generous landing area, providing ample space and natural light throughout. This 4 bedroom townhouse with a generous 184m2 plot is on the market for 36,000 euros.
