

Jord til salg i Torre del Mar, Málaga

14.500€

We present you with an excellent opportunity to acquire a car park located in the area of El Tomillar, in Torre del Mar. This space has a total area of 36 m² and is offered at a very attractive price of only 15,500 euros. Although the current state requires particular attention (conservation: none), its strategic location makes it an ideal option for both owners looking to insure their vehicle as an investment or rental in the face of the growing demand in the area. The property does not include rooms or additional services such as bathrooms or toilets; however, this allows the future owner to customize its use according to their specific needs. Whether intended for private storage or other creative uses within local regulations on parking lots and urban warehouses, this is definitely an interesting proposition because of the potential future economic benefits.~
