The town is set beside a hill crowned by the historic Castillo de Castalla, a striking reminder of its medieval heritage. Visitors can explore the old town, the Ermita de la Sang, or the nearby Maigmo mountain. The area is ideal for cycling, hiking, horse riding, and even golf. It is also well connected by road, just 30 km from Alicante and its international airport, with easy motorway access towards Madrid. Nearby towns such as Onil, Tibi, Ibi, and Biar are all within a short drive. Castalla is also renowned for its rich culinary tradition. One of its most typical dishes is “gaspaxo,” prepared with a special flatbread combined with chicken, rabbit, mushrooms, tomatoes, and fried onions — a recipe enjoyed for generations.
