The property and grounds are very private, overlook open countryside and are situated at the end of a small country lane which is just 3 mins drive from the pretty Almeria village of Partaloa. A small but very friendly village which is pre dominantly Spanish but with a good number of Ex Pats living in and around. The village as a location to live is more suited to those wanting to integrate into the Spanish community. It has a couple of great bar/eateries, few small shops, gym a GP etc. The larger market towns of Cantoria, Olula Del Rio and Albox all of which have shops, Supermarkets, numerous very good bar/restaurants alongside the more practical amenities required for day to day living are all within 10-15 min drive. The Almeria coastline along with some of its pretties and most popular beach areas Mojacar, Garrucha, Vera etc is just a 45-50 mins drive.
