Torrevieja is a coastal town located in the province of Alicante, on the southeastern coast of Spain. It is part of the Valencian Community and is situated on the Costa Blanca, along the Mediterranean Sea.

Location: Torrevieja is situated between the cities of Alicante and Murcia, making it a popular destination for both tourists and expatriates.

Climate: The town has a Mediterranean climate with hot summers and mild winters. It is known for its salt lakes, which contribute to the microclimate and are believed to have health benefits.

Economy: Traditionally, Torrevieja's economy has been centered around fishing and salt production. In recent years, however, tourism and the expatriate community have become significant contributors to the local economy.

Tourism: Torrevieja attracts tourists with its sandy beaches, vibrant nightlife, and a variety of cultural and recreational activities. The town has a waterfront promenade, a marina, and several parks.

Salt Lakes: The town is known for its salt lakes, including the Laguna Salada de la Mata and the Laguna Salada de Torrevieja. These lakes are pinkish in color due to the presence of certain microorganisms and are a unique feature of the area.
