In contrast to the surrounding arid terrain, Calasparra benefits from being crossed by four rivers, including the River Segura. This has enabled the cultivation of Calasparra rice, for which the town is noted, and dates back to the 14th century. It shares borders with Cieza, Mula, Cehegín, Moratalla and the province of Albacete. If you wish to soak up the rays on the beach and enjoy an evening at the restaurants on the seafront, Puerto de Mazarrón is a 1 hour and 20 minute drive away. If you are into outdoor activities such as hiking or rafting through the River Segura, you have this on your doorstep. Some excellent rafting experiences are offered in this area through the countryside of Calasparra. Alicante airport is a 1 hour and 20 minute drive and Murcia airport is just under an hour's drive away.
