

2 chambre Maison de Ville à vendre dans Velez de Benaudalla, Granada

89.500€

Fully reformed two bedroom mews style cottage with roof terrace just a two minute walk from the church and town centre amenities of Velez de Benaudalla.

This town centre property has been fully reformed and offers a small front patio within this pretty little street which leads from just above the main church up to the town's historic castle. There is an open plan lounge/dining room with two steps up into a modern galley style kitchen with black granite worktops. On the first floor there is a large open landing currently used as a second double bedroom off which is a nice balcony with french doors and a formal double bedroom. There is also a nice shower room with corner shower cubicle and the door which leads to the wrought iron staircase which gives access to the roof terrace with views up to the castle and over the surrounding countryside. The property is fully double glazed throughout and benefits from a solar powered air exchange system which keeps the property in good condition whilst the current owners are on their travels. The property is situated on one of the most famous and pretty little streets in the area. Viewing highly recommended at this price.
