

7 chambre Maison Troglodyte à vendre dans Olvera, Cádiz

145.000€

Beautiful 3 bedroom home, well looked after with gorgeous large kitchen diner. Well loved and maintained this colourful home sits close to the Main Street in a quiet back street with parking close but not directly outside. Downstairs is a large San Juan with beautiful large wooden original Andalusian door, with large entrance hall, from this main area, leading to a large bedroom to the front of the house, with bathroom and staircase leading to 3 further bedrooms and terrace, the lovely kitchen - diner is situated to the rear, a small patio off here leads to another full house, currently needing to be finished but could become a separate house easily, as all the main work has been done, or it could be developed into flats or rental rooms or a small B&B. This house has a separate entrance from another street, with a wide frontage and access for building materials etc. A large terrace completes this house with a door leading though to the other house's terrace.
