

5 chambre Maison de Ville à vendre dans Luque, Córdoba

35.000€

Extreme Value: Secure an Exceptional Property with Vast Potential. An unparalleled investment opportunity in the highly sought-after town of Luque, within the Cordoba province of Andalusia, Spain. This substantial 198m² build, 5-bedroom Townhouse offers a blank canvas for complete personalisation, representing significant value in the Andalusian property market. Priced at just €35,000, it allows for immediate occupancy with the flexibility to update and modernise at your own pace.

Key Features: Exceptional Scale and Layout: Five bedrooms and generous living spaces distributed over three floors. Desirable Location: Situated in Luque, a charming and popular area known for its proximity to the Sierra Subbética Natural Park. Private Outdoor Spaces: Multiple areas for relaxation, including a patio, an open garden, and a large private sun terrace boasting far-reaching countryside and mountain views. Excellent Accessibility: Located on a wide, level street with convenient on-road parking directly outside. Layout Overview: Ground Floor: Entry into a bright hallway, leading to a lounge/diner on the left. The main reception area straight ahead connects to the kitchen, a patio area (with a ground floor fully-tiled bathroom), and a storage room featuring an open fireplace. The patio seamlessly opens into the rear garden area. First Floor: The landing provides access to three bedrooms (a large double, a twin, and another double), plus direct access to the extensive private sun terrace with its breathtaking views. Stairs to the second floor are also located here. Second Floor: Two further large bedrooms, providing immense flexibility (one is currently utilised for storage). This is an immense property with valuable outside space, requiring renovation but offering a truly exceptional opportunity for an investor or a family seeking to create a magnificent home in southern Spain.
