

Land Te koop in Artà, Mallorca

600.000€

This extensive rustic property is strategically located on the Artà - Cañamel highway, less than 1 km from the picturesque town of Artà. Its location allows you to enjoy the tranquility of the countryside while maintaining convenient proximity to the services and community life of the town. The farm is a set of rustic plots of different sizes, offering a great diversity of landscapes and potential uses. The land is completely flat, which makes it easy to use and exploit. Part of the land is used for agriculture, while other areas are oak forests. In addition, the farm has a wide variety of native trees from the islands, providing a natural and biodiverse environment. The property has an old sinia typical of Mallorca, a water well drilled into the ground, and an old mill with a large cistern. These features not only add historical and cultural value, but are also useful for water supply. On the property there is a large house in a state of ruin, which offers a unique opportunity to restore and customize according to the needs and desires of the buyer. The property has its own electricity with a meter, guaranteeing an independent energy supply. Abundant water supply, essential for agriculture and any future development. A large part of the estate is protected, which ensures the conservation of the natural environment and limits unwanted urban developments. This large rustic property is ideal for those looking for a place with history and character, perfect for agricultural projects, restoration of old properties or simply to enjoy the natural beauty of Mallorca. The combination of agricultural land, forests and old buildings provides multiple opportunities to develop the estate according to individual preferences.
