

4 soverom Rekkehus til salgs i Torredonjimeno, Jaén

185.000€

This is a beautiful, large, old property in Torredonjimeno, in the Jaen province of Andalucia, Spain. Enter the original wooden front doors into a tiled vestibule with a wrought iron inner door. Through this door there is a living room to the right and a bedroom to the left ahead is another sitting area or dining room with the tiled kitchen, off to the left and the back door leads to the pretty patio, with a well. The first living area has the charming staircase with metal balustrades rising up to the third floor, on the ground floor under the stairs is a big pantry. The first floor has three bedrooms, one with access to the roof terrace (with laundry area), an enormous walk in cupboard and bathroom. The tiled staircase continues up to the third floor attic space with two long rooms the width of the house, one at the front and one at the back which has a roof opening for ease of access. Through the patio is a full bathroom and a few steps down into an enormous garage including storage rooms, and a second floor with rooms that would make a great apartment. This house is full of possibilities to have a business with separate living quarters.
