95.000€

This ground-floor bungalow in Torretas is small, yes But it's well designed, comfortable, and has something that's hard to find nowadays: a realistic price It's a corner property, located in a quiet area next to Torrevigia High School and Las Culturas School, with open views over the green walking path A pleasant setting, with no traffic or noise The kind of place where you can slow down and breathe Every square metre is well used The kitchen and bathroom have been refurbished, so there's nothing to worry about — just move in It keeps original details such as wooden windows, which add character, and offers a generous outdoor space, ideal for enjoying the Mediterranean climate, outdoor meals or time with family and friends ?????? Being ground floor, it's all about comfort and peace of mind This is not a home to show off It's a home to live well, without complications, and with plenty of potential to make it your own If you're looking for something simple, quiet and sensible, this bungalow is well worth a visit Shall we take a look? ????
