We present a property that is not just a house... it's that place where life flows effortlessly, with non-stop natural light and Mediterranean vibes all year round. Located in the well-known Bungalow Fiesta urbanisation in Torrevieja, this semi-detached duplex combines what has always worked — good orientation, practical layout and real outdoor space — with what everyone is looking for today: comfort, light and a strategic location. East-to-west light, all day long. Thanks to its east-west orientation, the sun greets you with energy in the morning and says goodbye in the evening while illuminating every corner. The result: a warm, energy-efficient and pleasant home in every season. Here, light isn't an extra — it's the star. Private outdoor space that makes the difference. From the moment you arrive, you are welcomed by a spacious and versatile front garden and terrace. Perfect for long breakfasts, dinners with friends or simply unwinding. Because yes, the Costa Blanca climate is meant to be enjoyed... but even better in your own private space. At the rear, you have direct access to the recently renovated communal swimming pool. You're literally in summer mode within seconds. Comfortable and functional layout. Ground floor: Bright and cosy living-dining area. Fully equipped kitchen, practical and ready for everyday living. Guest toilet. Upper floor: Two double bedrooms with wardrobes, one of them built-in. Full bathroom with bathtub for relaxation. Private terrace accessed from one of the bedrooms (morning coffee here just hits differently). Location that adds real value. Just a few minutes' walk from the iconic Playa de los Locos and the central Playa del Cura, surrounded by supermarkets, health centres, public transport and all essential services. A property that works in every scenario: permanent residence with genuine quality of life or a second home for sunny escapes. A holiday investment with strong demand thanks to its location and features. In short: light, location, outdoor space and a well-established community. The solid fundamentals, done right. And when something is well done, time only increases its value. If you're looking for a home where the sun is part of the furniture... this is it. Contact us now!
