

7 bedroom Townhouse for sale in Hinojales, Huelva

400,000€

Perfectly located in the center of Hinojales, on a lovely square, occupying an entire corner, the impressive stone walls that make up this house have seen several centuries go by.

This substantial property has 857 built m2 and boasts stunning original elements, spectacularly conserved, such as vaulted ceilings, hydraulic floors, paintings, wooden beams etc.

The property consists of: a spectacular entrance hall, a living room with fireplace & tiles dating back to the beginning of last century, a stunning kitchen, with a one-piece marble sink, sevillian tiles, two ovens and a fireplace. This room is without a doubt the highlight of the property.

With six bedrooms, there is also a large open space in the attic, currently used as a bedroom, but that would make a fantastic study.

The roof was entirely repaired a few years ago, with good insulation, waterproofing, and all of the wood was treated. The plumbing has also been updated in the three bathrooms.

Its wonderful garden has different spaces, paved areas at the exit of the house, a covered porch with wooden roof, private gardens with great views, 2 wells and a bodega with vaulted ceilings.
