The beauty of Desert Springs, that which sets it apart from other places in Spain, lies in the nature of the surroundings in which it is set. Whilst overseas homeowners enjoy many types of environment, surely the most spectacular of these is the rugged desert landscape of Desert Springs and the dry sunny yearround climate of the Almanzora by far the most pleasurable. Set high on a plateau with panoramic views over the Almanzora valley towards the Mediterranean and surrounding mountains, there is something quite rare and special about the light and ambience of the perfectly maintained desert parkland, the largest rock and cactus garden in Europe... it has an all but surreal sense of beauty, serenity and quality of life and service. The Desert Springs Resort and Golf Club is an international award winning family leisure resort with exclusive luxury homes set beside the emerald green fairways of a unique and stunning championship desert golf course. Europe's only world class championship desert golf course, the stunning, 72 par, USGA specification championship desert Indiana course provides a unique golfing experience. What's more its Golf Academy has unsurpassed facilities to help golfers to improve all aspects of their game; after all this was the Overseas Home of The English Golf Union and is the current home of the Welsh Ladies Golf Union.
