

5 bedroom Country House for sale in Castillo de Locubín, Jaén

190,000€

Located in the lovely hamlet of Los Chopos and close to the historical village of Castillo de Locubín, in the province of Jaén, this large 653m² built Cortijo is the perfect oasis of peace and comfort for all those looking to run away from the stress and the noise of a town or city. Situated on the outskirts of the town and distributed over three floors, it is part-furnished and totally ready to move into. The main entrance opens to a flowered and sun-drenched courtyard with a little pond in the middle, which gives this space a more exotic flavour. Here, you will also find a practical storage room and a completely modern bathroom, as well as a splendid and open-air swimming pool decorated as a relaxing area. As you enter the house, there is a well-sized living room opening to a separate dining room. The ground floor also counts with a second living room equipped with fireplace and a fully-fitted kitchen. The stairs will take you up to the first floor, where there is an immaculate and modern bathroom, another living room and five good size bedrooms. The corridor giving access to these rooms has several Juliet balconies overlooking the marvellous landscape. You will also find here an additional room having the potential to be converted into a further bedroom, and a space which could be reformed into a tiled bathroom with a little refurbishment. Finally, the second floor consists of two large areas that could be used as bedrooms. The property also counts with a private garage, an enormous courtyard, water and electricity connections and off-road parking.
