Cueva Picolo is a stunning semi-detached cave property built in 1820 and was recently modernised by the current owner-builder with exceptional attention to design and detail. The property is situated on a quiet country road in Venta Micena, a rural hamlet of the village of Orce.

The cave house is big, beautiful and rambling, with 4 bedrooms, 3 bathrooms, garden patio (approximately 350m²), a gated driveway, and a garage with a vehicle inspection pit. Across the road is a 900m² plot of woods and open land with lots of room for guest parking. Down the hill below the wooded plot are 2600m² of farmland.

The cave house has a spacious open-plan living room and kitchen/dining room, 4 double bedrooms and 3 bathrooms with showers. There is an office/extra bedroom, pantry, an entertainment nook and laundry/utility room.

Sliding glass doors open to a shaded cave sitting area on the edge of the garden patio. The patio is fully enclosed with a low wall that could be built higher. On the tiled patio is a dining area under the pergola. The summer kitchen has two sinks, a tap and a gas grill. Plantings include roses and olive, almond and acacia trees. There is room for an above ground pool.
