Located just a short 10 minute drive from the centre of historical Antequera, in the Malaga province of Andalucia, Spain, this property sits just a little up a track and surrounded by unspoilt countryside for as far as the eye can see. The property sits within approximately 19,000m<sup>2</sup> of land which consists of various outbuildings waiting to be renovated and established gardens including a selection of fruit trees and of course plenty of olive and almond trees. The main house has been lovingly reformed and from one side looks like a single storey but on the other shows both floors. Downstairs there are 2 bedrooms and a completely new shower room. This property runs on solar power for electricity and has a private well for water.
