La Mata is a small coastal town located in the province of Alicante, in the Valencian Community, Spain. It is situated on the Costa Blanca, specifically within the municipality of Torrevieja. La Mata is known for its beautiful sandy beaches, pleasant Mediterranean climate, and relaxed atmosphere.

The town is popular among tourists and locals alike, especially during the summer months when visitors flock to its shores. The main attraction of La Mata is its expansive beach, Playa de La Mata, which stretches for several kilometers along the coastline. The beach offers golden sand, clear waters, and a range of amenities, including beach bars, restaurants, and water sports facilities.

In addition to its beach, La Mata has a charming town center with a selection of shops, restaurants, and cafes. It retains a traditional Spanish feel, with narrow streets, white-washed buildings, and a laid-back ambiance. There is also a weekly street market where locals and visitors can purchase fresh produce, clothing, and other goods.

Nature lovers will appreciate the nearby natural park, known as the "Parque Natural de La Mata y Torrevieja." It is a protected area of salt lakes and marshes that serves as a habitat for various bird species, including flamingos. The park offers walking and cycling paths, picnic areas, and observation points for birdwatching.
