Then you enter the house with on the right a bathroom with shower , and on the left a bedroom. Then you enter the spacious living room with dining area and stove , on the left side there are two more bedrooms. Continuing through the living room on the left there is a storage room and on the right the fully modernized kitchen. This continues to a higher area with a re-tiled splash pool. Then there is another staircase leading to the roof terrace (under the stairs additional storage space) with a nice view of the surroundings but which has been well utilized by installing solar panels.
