

3 спальная комната городская тюрьма продается в Salobreña, Granada

110.000€

Casa Antequera is a lovely house in the old part of Salobreña, just below the castle. It's in one of those beautiful, winding streets full of whitewashed buildings and flowers on the balconies — full of charm and character, but still peaceful and relaxing.

The house has three bedrooms and one bathroom, with a really comfortable layout that works well for a holiday home or an easygoing base in the south of Spain. One of the standout features is the covered terrace, which has gorgeous views — looking out over the mountains, the coast, and the natural landscape all around. It's a great spot to sit with a coffee or unwind in the evenings.

Unlike many homes in this part of town, there's parking very close by, which makes life a lot easier. The streets here can be narrow and steep, so easy access is a real bonus.

Salobreña itself is a special place — a coastal town that still feels truly Andalusian. It has a mix of history, culture, and a relaxed pace of life. The beach is just a short walk away, and there are plenty of local cafes, restaurants, and little shops to explore. It's lively in the right moments but never too busy, and it's surrounded by both sea and mountains, which gives it a really unique feel.

Casa Antequera is the kind of place that works beautifully as a lock-up-and-leave holiday home — easy to manage, full of character, and in a setting that always feels like a bit of a getaway.
