Novelda is a really great Spanish town, with very few expats living here. Here you will find cafes, bars and restaurants all with great prices and service, this is one of the friendliest towns we know with very little influence from other nationalities. Novelda has a hospital, sports centre with swimming pools, lots of large supermarkets and a commercial area. The large city of Elche is just 10 minutes drive.

Close to Novelda is the village of La Romana, where you will find many expats from across northern Europe, a real community spirit here, and one of the finest British cafe/restaurants in the Costa Blanca.

Located just 20 minutes from the Alicante Airport and Beaches, and also benefitting from the cover of the mountains range behind that prevents the mist and fog in the winter, and gives this area one of the best all year round temperatures in the Alicante Province.
