

земля продается в Sax, Alicante

45.000€

This plot offers an excellent opportunity to build in a quiet and well-connected area. It has irrigation water available and an electricity post nearby, making access to basic utilities straightforward. The land includes 250 olive trees in full production, adding extra value for agricultural use or as a potential complementary activity. Its size and location make it an ideal choice for developing a residential or agricultural project with ample space and good accessibility. About the Area Sax is a municipality that offers all essential services, including supermarkets, schools, a health center, and a good selection of restaurants. It is just a few minutes from Elda and Petrer, with easy access to the A-31 highway, which connects directly to Alicante and the airport in under 40 minutes. The area combines the peace of the countryside with proximity to urban amenities, providing a high quality of life and an appealing natural environment.
