This well-presented first-floor apartment offers an excellent opportunity as a permanent residence, holiday home, or investment property with proven rental potential. With both NRA and VUT tourist licences already in place, it is fully prepared for short-term lets and performs well throughout the year.

The property has a total built area of 93m² and is thoughtfully laid out to maximize space, light, and views. Being a corner unit, it benefits from additional windows and enhanced privacy, with one side free from neighbouring properties.
