Charming Corner Townhouse with Panoramic Views in the Heart of Luque

This 113 corner-plot property square meters built offers a rare opportunity to acquire a traditional home with immense potential in the picturesque village of Luque, Córdoba. Perfectly situated just a five-minute stroll from the Plaza de España, this residence boasts some of the most breathtaking views in the region, overlooking the rolling olive groves and the majestic Luque Castle.

The Layout:

Ground Floor: The entrance opens into a welcoming sitting room. To the left is a spacious double bedroom with street views. Towards the rear, the dining area leads into a kitchen, both positioned to capture natural light and views of the castle.

First Floor: This level features three well-appointed double bedrooms. The central bedroom enjoys a classic Juliet balcony, while the right-hand bedroom provides access to a full bathroom and the property's standout feature: the private terrace. This elevated sun-trap is the perfect spot for al fresco dining while taking in the stunning countryside and fortress vistas.

Lower Ground Level: Accessible from the dining room, the basement includes a distribution hall leading to a second bathroom and a traditional "bodega" (wine cellar), adding a touch of rustic character and valuable extra space.

Whether you are looking for a rewarding renovation project or a charming holiday retreat, this property must be seen to be fully appreciated. Early viewing is highly recommended to capture the true essence of its location and views.
